Alessandra

Collar Lipman

Alessandra Collar Lipman is a Michigan mixed media artist, working with themes of memories of the past with an emphasis on the figurative. Found vintage photographs are the source material for her pieces which are composed using a technique of heat-fusing pieced fabric to a backing surface, with additional details drawn using Prisma colored pencils. She also uses antique ephemera such as photographs and postcards, combined with acrylic paints, to make one-of-a-kind collages on cradled board.

She received a BFA from the University of Michigan.

Her influences include classic children's book illustration, film noir, art dolls, stop-motion animation, vintage paper ephemera, and dollhouse miniatures.

Please join us Monday, November 4th to learn more about Alessandra and see some of her amazing mixed media art.
