December Program Glass Mosaic Workshop by Michelle Guernsey

Mosaic By
Michelle Guernsey

We all have tales to tell, as unique and interesting as we are as human beings. We have a need to communicate, share our experiences, in whichever manner feels comfortable. I have found that creating beauty out of broken or torn things allows me to tell my story. I can take a pile of broken glass and some glue and whisper sweet songs of the memories of my childhood. And I have found healing and love through these songs.

Using stained glass on reclaimed windows and picture frames allows light to shine through and brightens the image, which in turn uplifts the spirits. The designs flow and invite the viewer to participate in the story, encouraging the idea of going with the flow. The contrast between metal, glass, and wood parallels the complexity of the human essence. We are strong and fragile, soft and sharp. And we have beautiful tales to tell.

It is important to me to share this gift with others by offering arting workshops. Opportunities for others to find their artistic voices and explore ways in which they can tell their own tales through the art of mosaic.

For those interested in participating in creating a group piece, there will be a nominal $5 materials fee and the work will belong to the club.

EXHIBITION OPPORTUNITY FOR MEMBERS

Sign-up with Marilyn Meredith for the next exhibit that will run February 6 - March 6, 2017 or for a future solo show. Thanks to Vincent Maiorana who donated additional hangers, there is now the ability to hang up to 20 pieces, depending upon the size of the works.
