Susan Aitken on Gingerbread Houses

I am really excited to talk to you about Taking Gingerbread House Creation to the Next Level at Three Cities' December Zoom meeting. I made my first house in 1989 and it sparked an interest that has not waned over time, just strengthened. I plan to share my gingerbread journey and hopefully impart some of my enthusiasm for this art form! There is so much you can do with it and tons of tricks. Although most have been actual houses, several have not been, and I will show you how I did these through both photos and a couple time-lapse videos.

So grab your graph paper and oven mitts and join me for some fun! I'm looking forward to seeing you at the meeting!!
