ARTIST'S STATEMENT

My artistic journey has always been about striving to capture the essence of what I see, aiming to render images so lifelike that they often resemble photographs. However, through mentorship and growth, I've come to realize the importance of not just replicating reality, but also uncovering the hidden spirit within every living being, or the profound beauty present in flowers and landscapes.

In addition to this pursuit, I find joy in exploring the boundless possibilities of combining shapes, textures, and colors. This experimentation extends beyond the organic world, leading me to create unique non-organic works that push the boundaries of traditional art forms. From painting to sculpting, I've dabbled in various mediums, even venturing into the realm of three-dimensional art.

Ultimately, my artistic endeavors are driven by personal enjoyment and fulfillment. I strive to evoke emotions in viewers, hoping that my creations resonate with them on a profound level. And when someone chooses to invest in my work, I hope it brings them not just momentary pleasure, but lasting joy for years to come.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Marilyn Meredith is an artist with a passion for art that has been nurtured throughout her life. Although she pursued art classes in school, it wasn't until around 2000 that she reignited her love for art by taking portraiture classes taught by Lin Baum at Schoolcraft College. In 2014, her brother provided her with in-depth training via Zoom from Santa Fe, further enhancing her skills. Apart from these formal trainings and occasional workshops, Marilyn is largely self-taught, demonstrating her dedication to honing her craft.

Her involvement with the Three Cities Art Club has been significant in her artistic journey. After attending one of their exhibitions at the Canton Library, Marilyn became a member and eventually rose to the position of president. Her leadership has been instrumental in steering the club, fostering a welcoming environment for members and addressing challenges to enhance the art experiences both for members and the community at large.

Marilyn's artistic endeavors extend beyond the club. Her artwork has found homes in various residences and businesses across the country. In retirement, she founded Pet Portraits by Marilyn Meredith, a venture that keeps her creatively engaged. While she engages in some promotion for her business, the majority of her clients come through referrals, a testament to the quality of her work.

For those interested in purchasing her artwork or commissioning a custom piece, Marilyn can be contacted via phone at 313-231-393 or through email at marilynmeredith@wowway.com. With her skills and dedication, Marilyn Meredith continues to create art that enriches the lives of others.
