With artworks in collections throughout the United States, Canada and Europe, Nancy Wanchik is an eclectic artist based in the Detroit-Metro area specializing in mixed media collages using newspaper, hand-dyed tissue paper, watercolor, acrylic and ink. With these tools, she finds approaches to express the stories of her love for this planet, all its creatures, the heavens, emotions and nature. Her artwork ranges from abstract, surrealism, post-impressionism, and street art. “I want my artwork to speak to you, for you to connect and create your own story around it. I’ve always considered my biggest accomplishment when collectors tell me how they were drawn to a piece. I find it so rewarding!” Ms. Wanchik is always exploring new ways to express her art and finding new directions for you to find your personal stories within them.
