CRITIQUE: Andrea L. Davis

Andrea L. Davis brings a unique perspective to art crit, drawing from her extensive background in fine arts, retail design, and brand strategy. With a BA in Interior Design from Wayne State University, she has honed her ability to evaluate visual composition, conceptual narratives, and audience engagement. Her career in retail strategy and experience in design has centered on storytelling, aesthetics, and consumer interaction. She has had to demonstrate her ability to assess and articulate artistic intent and execution. Her expertise in visual storytelling positions her as a valuable contributor to the dialogue within the art club, offering insightful and meaningful critiques. So take advantage of this wonderful opportunity and bring a painting to be critiqued!

NOTE: APRIL MEETING WILL BE APRIL 14

February Member Spotlight Recap

We were pleased to have realist artist Chuck Schroeder as the member spotlighted at our February meeting. Born in Detroit, he now works out of Livonia. His interest in art began early, developing his style of drawing in high school using just a BIC Cristal pen. He continued in black and white until just recently when he branched out into colored pencil, reserving the BIC pen for dramatic effect. His subject varies, including ships, landscapes, cars, figures, and animals. He likes people to take the time to really study his drawings and appreciate the detail that goes into each drawing. It was great to hear his story behind each of the three drawings he shared with the group.

PAINTING WITH PAPER

In February, we were pleased to have Shadia Derbyshire present her unique collage techniques which she calls painting with paper. She spoke of her use of found papers of all kinds and how she tears each paper by hand to create colorful pictures with pattern and texture. She displayed some of her work and showed how this technique was utilized to create them.
